WELCOME VISITOR

CBS' Jack Smith is understandably looking forward to Wednesday, Jan. 15—because that's the day lovely Janet Blair of the Backers pays a vocal visit to Jack's CBS song show.

—Two members of the Legion Auxiliary, Mrs. Margaret Thompson and Mrs. Mary Averall, are taking a course at the Bedford Hospital to become "Ochid" Ladies of the Auxiliary. At the present writing, they are supervising the making of poppies.

—The Wilmington members of the Legion Auxiliary have voted to sponsor a girl of the Junior class of the Wilmington High School to attend Girls State. The girl having the highest average will be chosen.

—Answering a call on Tuesday afternoon, the fire department extinguished a grass fire at the H. C. Parsons Nursery on Woburn St. A shed about was burned.

—Eugene L. Clifford, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl E. Clifford, 218 Shawheen Avenue, has enlisted in the United States Army. Clifford enlisted for a three year period, and will enter the armed forces in the Pacific theatre.

—The sympathy of the community goes out to Mrs. Harold E. Woodman, of Brentwood Avenue, in the death of her father, Harris I. Lockhart, in Hantsport, Nova Scotia. Mrs. Woodman left town to attend the funeral services at the Nova Scotia home.

A radio commentator has to follow practically by the minute all sources of the news available, a fact which accounts for the interest of Gabriel Matter in late press information as it streams out of his special teletype machine shortly before the presentation of one of his regular broadcasts from his L. residence.

Members of the Legion Auxiliary have been invited by Governor and Mrs. Robert Bradford to be present at the Washington Birthday reception on Saturday morning at ten o'clock in the Hall of Flags, State House.

—One hundred and thirty-eight men and 98 women registered at the last two sessions of the Board of Registrars making a total of 236 new voters. A total of 2892 will be eligible to vote at the March election.

The regular meeting of the Elphinstone Whistford Rehearsal Lodge was held on Monday night in Crange Hall, with a Washington Birthday party following the meeting. Refreshments were in charge of Mrs. Katherine D.

Amos, Noble Grand. Following the affair a "singing party" was enjoyed, in charge of Mrs. Laura Palmer.

—Among the winners at the recent what party conducted at the home of Mrs. Charles Randall, 36 Central street, for the benefit of the Odd Fellows Association, were Mrs. Margaret Blackwell, Mrs. Helen Dwyer, J. A. Green, Charles Read, Mrs. Katherine D. Amos, Mrs. Mabel McDonough, George Reynolds, Mrs. Elia Hemmen, Mrs. Susan Rice, Mrs. Mildred Reel, Mrs. Alice Sumner, and Beatrice Rose. Harry Johnson of Burlington was the winner of the special prize.

What Price Parking?

You can park on the street, of course —and worry about getting a parking ticket or a smashed fender.

Or you can ride around and try to get into one of Boston's jammed parking lots.

Save money—save time and trouble —when you go to Boston.

Leave the car at home. Commute by train. It's dependable, convenient and economical.

Free parking for train patrons is available at most suburban stations
